Cork, Ireland. The potato crop is the largest crop grown in the world. (Niall Carson/PA Images via Getty Images) The United States and China are the biggest producers of potatoes and potatoes are eaten in many different ways but one of the most popular is the potato chip. The crispy snack is available at every fast food and convenience store and is the base for many different recipes in the United States. From Baltimore to Boston to California, potato chip consumption is on the rise in the United States. Recent numbers show the average American eats 2.3 pounds of potato chips per year and the number of stores that sell chips has increased over the past decade. Chloe Loarie, a retail technology expert who writes a popular blog about how people use technology in their lives, reviewed online and mobile phone usage in the United States to find out what potato chip eaters do before and after eating the snack. Loarie looked at what people do before they eat chips, what type of 82157476af
